

Reopen Woman's Grave to Solve Leath Mystery

New Haven, Dec. 15.—Because of the mystery surrounding the sudden illness and death of Mrs. Albert Durand, wife of a New Haven artist, who died at the West Haven Sanitarium early in November after drinking a glass of buttermilk, which she complained had a bitter taste, Coroner Mix and the police have decided to exhume the body to determine the cause of death. This action has been advised by Dr. A. Ludington, who was called to attend Mrs. Durand after she was stricken.

Another feature of the investigation developed yesterday when Coroner Mix asked that the city detectives be assigned to assist in the case. So far as known, the authorities have no definite clue indicating that the woman was poisoned, but the new turn in the investigation, which began a month ago by the Coroner and the Yale Medical School, leads to the belief here that the Coroner has some reason to suspect that Mrs. Durand died from other than natural causes.

Important facts are said to have been brought to Coroner Mix's attention. The death of John Russell, a boarder in the Durand home, more than a year ago, and a mysterious illness which came to light afterward, it is said, gave the Coroner further cause to make a full inquiry into the second death. Reopening of the inquiry caused surprise as Coroner Mix had announced that it had been closed.

Until twenty-four hours before her death the authorities say, Mrs. Durand was in good health. On the night she drank the glass of buttermilk she had just returned from a party. According to Dr. Ludington, who was called here to attend Mrs. Durand, she was taken to the West Haven Sanitarium, where she died the following day without having regained consciousness. The cause of death stated in the certificate issued by Dr. Ludington was uremia and a complication resulting in edema of the lungs.

It was not until after the body had been embalmed and buried that Coroner Mix began his investigation.

MORE DANVILLE PROOF.

Jacob Schraff, 433 South St., Danville, Ill., writes: "For over fifteen months I was a sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble. During the whole time was treated by several doctors and tried several different kidney pills. Seven weeks ago I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Pills, and am feeling better every day and will be glad to tell anyone interested just what Foley's Kidney Pills did for me." F. B. STRATFORD

A few gentlemen who have the elements to attend the meeting of the Men's club at Mr. Beecher's on Monday evening, were Frank E. Baker, J. Henry Baker, Arthur S. Shirley, William Lawrence, John Wheeler, J. H. Tomlinson, Dea. Baldwin, Frederick Viner, Frank Sammis, Albert Sammis, and others. At the conclusion of Judge Curtis' address a beautiful luncheon was served.

A large contingent of our local lovers of music went over to Bridgeport Monday evening to attend the Symphon concert. In the audience were noticed Mrs. Charles E. Peck, and Kenneth Peck, Mrs. J. H. Curtis, Mrs. Adelaide Gutherie, Mrs. Bedd Benjamin, Miss Emma F. Allen, Mrs. H. J. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wheeler, Miss Emily Dunbar Wheeler, and many more.

There was a special meeting of the School Board last night to consider plans for the proposed school house at Hollister Heights. Who is to be the architect has not been decided. Plans from several architects were submitted. It is rumored that possibly the board will be forced to resort to condemnation proceedings in the matter of the lot on Barnum avenue where it is desired to build the school house.

The two young men who came from Bridgeport to Buck Swamp for the purpose of "exercising their dogs" on Sunday last, and were caught hunting rabbits in contravention of the statute made and provided. But forfeited their bonds of $20. No rabbit pie this Christmas!

A very interesting book which has just been added to the library collection is "The Diary of a Young Officer," by Josiah Marshall Paville, who is well known in town by many, since he spent several summer months in the town of Stratford, Conn., during the Civil War, and the part played in it by the 1st Regiment of New York.

Steven Keyer, of Homestead, is on the sick list. Ornithologists, having examined the "quack" duck, sent some days ago to These Judson, the light-house keeper, pronounced it a Wood duck. This is a rare species hereabouts. It used to build nests in the hollow trunks of old trees in swamps, but as these have been cut down the wood duck has gone to other parts of the country.

Mrs. M. J. Berwald is suffering from pneumonia. There is a rumor that a factory for the manufacture of head stones, may be built near St. Michael's cemetery. The stones are made of a composition which resembles granite.

Friday evening the Red Men will confer the second degree on the Red Men of Stratford. The Red Men of Stratford will confer the first prize at the Little George Stacey birthday party.

There were but five deaths in town during November. Mrs. Ella Myers, from San Francisco, is visiting in town, after an absence of 34 years. She sees little change.

Donald Falken is not expected home from Rochester before Christmas. Do not forget any of the concerts which are to come off this week.

Rev. C. S. Bullock goes to New York tomorrow where he will lecture in the evening before one of the schools.

Rev. E. N. Parkard is in Boston for a few days.

FAIRFIELD

Owing to the very moist state of the weather, there was comparatively small audience at the Memorial library on Monday evening to listen to the lecture delivered by Mr. Albert Bick of Boston. The speaker did venture out, speak in warm terms of the discourse and say the speaker was interesting and witty. He retold the whole story of the life of Benjamin Franklin, whom he reckoned as one of six of the greatest men of the 18th century, pointing Washington at the head, and Alexander Hamilton, a few of those who listened were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Jennings, Rev. and Mrs. Frank S. Child, Dr. W. H. Donaldson, Cyrus King and his children, Mr. Benjamin Betts, Mr. John E. Devo, Rev. Mr. Beaman, Prof. Francis Brewer, J. Howard Wakeman, Ruth and Sherman Child, and others.

Mrs. H. S. Burr, Senior and her son, attended the Symphony concert in Bridgeport.

From stealing chickens on Greenfield Hill, the thieves have taken to robbing.

ing off bee hives with their contents. A few nights ago Mr. G. Frank Monro lost two hives containing 30 pounds of honey. They were taken to Southport, the bees drowned, and the honey extracted. No trace of the robbers has been found.

About 5:15 Tuesday morning, the train known as the drop freight express 304, Conductor Lynch, engineer Clark, running east, while switching at Southport, broke connections, causing the derailment of a pair of trucks which left the main line, blocking it until the New Haven wrecker arrived and replaced them on the rail. The rear end of the drop train was pulled back onto the Jennings siding at Greenfield Farms, giving the train a glance to run at an advantage, on the derailed cars. Track number 2 was used for all east bound trains, causing no serious delay. Only a few less were cut and the train was immediately replaced by section master Kennedy.

The boys and girls of the Greenfield Hill are asked to be on hand on Friday evening to prepare the greens for Christmas decorations. Rev. Mr. Olmstead is the victim of a severe cold.

The Whitman studio, Bridgeport, has engaged the services of Miss Irene Bradley during the holidays. Now the report is that Mrs. Nehemiah Perry, and her daughters, after a visit for a few weeks in New York, will pass the rest of the winter in the town.

The tower house near the depot is being repainted. It is said the new school superintendent plays both the violin and the piano and that one of his boys has a fine voice.

Mrs. Jesup Gives $50,000 to Yale

The Yale corporation met in Woodbridge hall yesterday afternoon, with President Taft and Governor Weeks present. The matter of a new building for the university to succeed the McCullough, who has gone to Washington as treasurer of the United States was taken up, but there was not any action taken upon it.

A gift of $50,000 from Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, was reported to complete the fund for the Morris K. Jesup school of silviculture in the Forest school.

Among minor gifts announced were a fund from General Ledyard, a fund from the maintenance of the Ledyard memorial flagstaff. A portrait of James W. Pinchot, from Mrs. Pinchot, of Washington and a sum of money sufficient to erect a monument to the courts in connection with the university gymnasium.

Consumption or body-building, demand a remedy that removes the cause, is on the bottle! Find out if it is endorsed by physicians! Learn how it is made! Linoline meets all the tests—it is the remedy that will cure you if there is a cure for you.

Countless grave sicknesses are recognized by the medical profession as having their direct or indirect cause in a neglected "cold" or cough. Linoline, the flax seed emulsion, is the most helpful thing in the world to you. Medicine knows no surer healing agent for inflamed mucous membranes (the medical term for the linings of nose, throat and lung passages). Thus, Linoline is curing "colds," coughs, bronchitis and consumption. It is also building up the body as nothing else can do.
